

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Drexel University's School of Education offers comprehensive doctoral and master's degree programs, as well as a variety of post-bachelor's certification programs, to meet the needs of educators and educational administrators at any level. The school's world-class faculty is directly engaged in formal and informal approaches to learning through collaboration with other schools and colleges, cultural organizations, and the community.

Offering students the skills to provide leadership in various settings from the classroom to the boardroom, the innovative curriculum goes well beyond conventional teacher training. Graduates are known for their leadership, creativity, ambition, and overall preparedness, along with knowledge of the latest developments in pedagogy and instructional technology. Because of this, the School of Education ranks among the top graduate schools of its kind in the nation.

As the school's programs strive to address the needs of a socially, economically, and racially diverse group of multi-generational learners, students learn to incorporate the latest research into their teaching practices. The next generation of leadership begins here.
